100 To Work In $2,500,000 Plant

Giant Box Factory For Newark

American Forest Products Enters Paper Field; Completion Next Fall

A new $2,500,000 corrugated-paper box factory for Newark was announced Friday by Walter S. Johnson, president of the American Forest Products Corp.

Johnson said the plant will employ 100 persons, will turn out "more than 20 million square feet of paper boxes a month," and will be located next to the Southern Pacific tracks on a 20-acre site northwest of the present AFP plant on Cedar Road.

The 20 acres were purchased when AFP bought its present plant location, according to C. P. Eddie, AFP manager for the present Newark yard.

The building will be finished in nine months, Johnson said, with work to start this winter.

Johnson stressed the 125,000-square-foot plant marks the entry of AFP into the corrugated-paper field. AFP has been making wooden containers since 1910 through its subsidiary, American Box Corp.

The president added that Newark was selected as the site because of its central location and proximity to agricultural and industrial sites.

A release from Johnson added:

"The building will house an 87-inch corrugator complete with gas-fired high pressure steam generator. Orders for the corrugated board-making equipment as well as all machinery needed for the forming of board into agricultural and industrial boxes, are now being placed with the manufacturers. A spur track of the Southern Pacific railroad will be run into the site to deliver materials for building and later be used for receiving paper and shipping finished boxes from a 12-car deck.

"Through its subsidiary, the American Box Corporation, this concern has been engaged in the manufacture and sale of wooden containers since 1910. Their entry into the corrugated paper field marks an advance in the service extended to customers. The American Forest Products Corporation, through its subsidiaries, has warehouses and sales outlets extending all over the western states including Texas.

"American Forest Products Corporation picked the Newark site for their new corrugator operation because of its central location in the Bay Area, as well as its proximity to the Sacramento, San Joaquin, Santa Clara and Salinas Valleys.

Second Try 'Must Not Fail'

Washington Hi Tax Vote Tuesday Held Vital To Keep School Going

Goold In Plea For 'Yes' Ballot On 50-Cent Boost

"Vital," "critical," and "dire need" were words applied here last week as the October 19 high school tax election neared.

District Supt. J. V. Goold said with enrollment already over the 1200 mark, and with the new annex scheduled to be ready by January, the school "is in critical need of funds to operate."

District trustees are asking for the second time in five months that the tax rate be upped from 75 cents to $1.25. Goold stressed all the money won't be used unless absolutely necessary.

Last May, voters turned down an identical increase, 1541 to 1418. This, said Goold, forced the school to curtail bus service and made it impossible to hire teachers who were badly needed, in view of the increased enrollment.

Unless more funds are forthcoming, the superintendent said, new shops will lie unused for lack of instructors, and it will be impossible to perform proper maintenance work on the enlarged school.

Already Washington High is handicapped by being unable to offer new teachers more than $3600 a year—less than many elementary schools in the Township.

Before the Rotary Club last Thursday, Night School Principal Judson Taylor warned that if only the youngsters now enrolled in Township elementary schools hit the high school by 1958, 2300 will be enrolled. This makes no allowance for newcomers, he said.

The tax rate, reduced to 25 cents during the depression years, was as low as 49 cents in 1946-7. The following years however, trustees saw the need to come and raised it to the present 75-cent maximum. Since

Irvington C. of C. Backs $185,000 School Bond Ballot; Election Is Next Wednesday

Hearty and unanimous endorsement of the $185,000 bond election to be held by the Irvington School District next Wednesday was accorded last week by the Irvington Chamber of Commerce.

Gus Robertson, district superintendent, declared the district will have 2,000 pupils a year from this coming June.

He said the school has letters from subdividers stating that 10,000 homes will be built here in the next five years.

"We have cut that number in half and are estimating our needs on 5,000 homes in five years," Robertson said. "This means that today's enrollment of 525 pupils, with 17 teachers in 18 rooms will increase to 950 children by next June; 1,150 children by next September and 1,475 pupils by a year from this Christmas.

"If the bond issue is approved, we will be qualified to ask for a state loan of $1,250,000 and still keep our bond tax at 40 cents," Robertson said.

He explained that the bonds are sold only as the assessed valuation of the district allows, and the State money is loaned only on the basis of the number of foundations for homes that are under construction.

If the bond election carries, construction of Irvington's second school will be started by the first of the year, Robertson went on. The state loan will enable the district to plan for two other schools, bringing to a total of four the plants needed for the 2,000 students expected to be enrolled by June 15, 1956.

Robertson also pointed out that under the present regulations of securing state loans, schools are completed 18 or 20 months after the children are actually in the community.

Missing Zoning Irks Niles CC

The mystery of what happened to Niles zoning deepened this week.

Niles Chamber of Commerce Secretary Vernon Ellsworth reported he wrote the County Planning Commission last January on direction of the chamber, asking that protective zoning be considered for Niles. Several towns have since been zoned, or rezoned.

Ellsworth said that in February he received a reply from Commission Secretary John Jay Thomas, stating that the commission had considered the Niles request for public hearings January 20, and adding:

"I am requested to inform you that as soon as the commission's schedule permits, the commission will establish a date for the hearings."

Ellsworth said he is still waiting for an answer.

$315,964 Bid On New School For Mission

Mission San Jose's new grammar school will cost $315,964, it was determined Tuesday night.

The San Jose contracting firm of E. A. Hathaway & Co. submitted this bid as the lowest of 10 opened on the 13-room school.

Principal May Williams said the Hathaway bid has been sent to Deputy Dist. Atty. Tom Firby for checking. She added Firby tells her that it may be several weeks before work can be started, since all the money is coming from a State allocation, and the State Allocations Board will not meet until next month.

The Hathaway bid was $12,000 under estimates prepared by Architects Higgins & Root of San Jose.

The new school will occupy an eight-acre site on Bryant Street.

The structure will replace the present jampacked double-session school on Highway 9, which was erected in 1913, now Washington Township's oldest school house.

It is designed on two levels, with 12 classrooms, a garden-court entrance with the multi-purpose room and kitchen at the lower level on the west side and the administration and kindergarten units on the east side.

Back of this will be an enclosed garden-court and covered walkways leading to three wings of four classrooms each.

The buildings will be of wood and stucco with composition roofs. Play yards and ball fields will be at the sides and rear.

Robbery Suspect Can't Leave Tot, Surrenders Here

Torn between trying to escape and having to abandon his 2-year-old son, a robbery suspect surrendered to deputies in Irvington Saturday night.

Held on charges of attempting to rob the Irvington Hotel is Raymond W. Purdy, 26, of San Francisco.

According to Sgt. Henry Vervais, investigating the case, Purdy and two accomplices drove to Irvington after picking up the baby at the San Francisco home of Purdy's estranged wife.

Leaving the child in the back seat of Purdy's sedan, the trio went to the hotel and asked Proprietor Sam Masseneo to show them a room.

When Masseneo took them upstairs, one of the men hit him on the head with a tire-iron, while a second flourished a pistol and demanded he deliver his cash to them.

Masseneo screamed, and his wife downstairs joined in the outcry. The bandits took fright and fled through a back entrance.

Meantime three carloads of deputy sheriffs had arrived on the scene. Checking Purdy's auto, they found the baby boy sleeping in the back seat, started to carry him to safety.

From a nearby hiding place Purdy observed the officers and coming forth, gave himself up.

He is charged with attempted armed robbery, and will be arraigned here Friday. Vervais is seeking the two alleged accomplices.

The baby was returned to his mother in San Francisco.

Mission Prefers Own Rec' Plan

A local recreation plan, rather than a Township-wide one is favored by most Mission San Jose-ites, according to a report to the local chamber of commerce this week.

Roy Dean, heading a chamber committee on the issue, said his group found sentiment favoring a community recreation center building in the town. Dean added most people contacted said they would contribute to one.

On this basis, Dean went on, his committee is seeking a suitable site, and expects to be able to announce success shortly.

MISS CROCKER

First WUHS Teacher Is 89 Here

By STUART NIXON

Blind and almost deaf, Washington Hi's first teacher celebrated her 89th birthday here Saturday with a zest and brightness that would put to shame many women 50 years younger.

Miss Gulielma Crocker, who took over classes when the high school was formed in 1892, now lives with her niece, Miss Margaret Fair, in the 100-year-old Fair home at 218 S. Main, Centerville.

"Teaching was — and is—a wonderful profession," says the sprightly Miss Crocker. She graduated from the University of California in 1886. (She is one of three surviving class members), then taught in Oakland until she was invited to the brand-new Washington Hi.

In those days, the school was located in rented downstairs quarters in a building where the present Masonic Temple now stands. There were 25 pupils.

Miss Crocker taught science and mathematics, mostly. William Wentworth, the principal, was the only other teacher. The single member of the Class of '32 was Miss May Burdick.

Dan Crosby and Henry Jarvis made up the Class of '93, and the first full three-year graduating class the following year included such widely-known names as Ezra Decoto, James Whipple and his bride-to-be, Laura Thane:

Mrs. Duffey Names Home Volunteers

With home-to-home calls for the 1954 United Crusade scheduled to begin next Monday morning (October 18,) last-minute instructions are being given this week to women volunteers of the Washington Township area at a series of coffee meetings.

Gatherings at the home of their section chairmen, these "Crusaders" will first listen to the real-life stories, then receive their final training and campaign kits.

As an important segment of 4000 women volunteers in the East Bay, the Washington Township Crusaders are determined to bring in pledges for their share of the $234,500 residential quota. Only residents who have not received 1954 United Crusade stickers in recognition of their "Give Where You Work" pledges will be urged to contribute.

"Women are the heart of the Crusade", Mrs. Byrde Duffey, department chairman of the residential division, said this week. "Many local women have been giving time to campaign preparations since February, and this week others are busy as vitally needed workers in the United Crusade supply rooms, on transportation committees, or training crews. All volunteer activities, including attendance at lunches and dinners, are at the volunteer's own expense."

In addition to her kit of pledge cards, yellow "We Gave" stickers and report envelopes, each residential Crusade volunteer will carry a deep conviction in the importance of her mission.

"Washington Township women were among the first to realize how many community-benefitting agencies-108- they

Clean Streets For Irvington

Irvington this week became the first Township community to contract for cleaner streets.

The local chamber of commerce heard a report that 11 merchants already have agreed to pay the Oakland "Kleen Sweep" firm $3 a month apiece to have the town's principal thoroughfares swept twice a week.

MORNING—Above, Mrs. Marion O'Flaherty, kindergarten teacher at Mission San Jose Elementary School poses with the morning half of split session she teaches in the old school basement. Thirty-seven youngsters are enrolled in this part of the "double session", which runs from 9 o'clock until 11:30. This is the first year Mission has had a kindergarten, and the school has 406 enrolled, up 100 percent from last fall, making the split sessions a necessity. (NEWS-REGISTER Photo)

AFTERNOON—Mrs. O'Flaherty displays afternoon session of kindergarten, in which 34 are enrolled. This class starts at 1 p.m., runs until 3:30. Mrs. O'Flaherty is a veteran of 10 years of teaching, some of them in Los Alamos, N.M., and her ability — and stamina — are widely recognized. Mission San Jose's school will move to new quarters when a $400,000 school is finished next fall, but whether growth in the historic town will permit old school to be abandoned is a question.

Niles Parking Design Okehed

Design of a parking lot which would take 33 merchants' cars off Niles streets was okeheh Tuesday by the Niles Chamber of Commerce.

Architect Mark Ellsworth submitted the plan, embodying stalls and one-way flow through the lot on Southern Pacific property off First Street.

The SP has offered the land for $30 a month. It has not yet been accepted. Secretary Vernon Ellsworth said he is contacting contractors to see how much it will cost to grade and surface the lot.

Newark "City Limits" Halted At Freeway As County Okehs Glenmoor, Newark Boundaries

Use of the coming Freeway as "a natural boundary" to split Newark and Centerville-including Glenmoor Gardens-was recommended Monday by the Alameda County Boundary Commission.

The Glenmoor Homeowners Association and a Newark citizens' committee had petitioned to establish type of "home-rule" which would have overlapped.

Glenmoor residents wanted the commission to recommend favorably on a "community service district" with its west boundary on Blacow Road, while the Newark group asked the limits of a proposed city be set the same as those of the Newark Fire District.

The conflict: Newark's fire district runs 500 feet east of Blacow Road, taking in part of Glenmoor.

Meeting in Oakland, the commission recommended the Freeway, still further west of Blacow Road, as "a natural physical barrier" to separate the two areas.

Then the Commissioners approved both petitions but used the Freeway route as the boundary where Glenmoor and Newark petitions overlapped.

Commissioners stressed that their recommendations are not binding, but can be changed by mutual agreement of the parties involved, and then can be submitted once more for approval.

Suggested John Jay Thomas, county planning director:

"It would be a very good idea for representatives of Glenmoor and the proposed City of Newark to get together and come to their own agreement on a boundary."

The Glenmoor petition was presented by W. A. Kerlin, vice president of the Homeowners Association, while the one for the "City of Newark" was filed by Gordon Cotten, chairman of the Citizens Committee.

Boundaries of the proposed Glenmoor Gardens Service District are the Centerville-Irvington road, Mowry avenue, Cedar road and Central avenue.

'Contract City' Study Report On Los Altos Given At Niles Chamber

Three Niles chamber of commerce members who journeyed to Los Altos to study how a "contract city" works, rendered a report Tuesday to the local chamber of commerce.

Dr. Joseph B. Enos, Vernon Ellsworth and Howard Mitchell made the trip. Ellsworth said they were told by Los Altos City Manager John Hope:

1. Los Altos with 18,000 population has a city tax rate of 23 cents.

2. Utility and insurance rates have dropped enough "to more-than-offset" the 23 cents.

3. Only $36,000 of the town's $270,000 budget comes from property taxes. About $160,000 comes from State tax kickbacks, and the balance from city license fees.

4. The County assesses and collects taxes. Total annual cost: $180.

5. The city has 14 employes. But street work is contracted to competitive bidders. Fire, sewer and school service is retained as it was in the original service districts - before incorporation.

Ellsworth, Mitchell and Dr. Enos made the journey as part of a study of cityhood currently being undertaken by several local chambers of commerce.

Ellsworth announced a meeting of all the town chamber committees has been called for the night of October 29 at Washington Union Hi School's visual education room.

Mission Scouts Awarded Charter

A charter for Mission San Jose's Boy Scout Troop 1 was accepted Monday night by Roy Dean, acting for the sponsoring Mission San Jose Chamber of Commerce.

Wallace Pond, Twin Valley district chairman, presented the charter for Boy Scout Troop 1 to Dean.

Dean asked the chamber of commerce to sponsor a second troop since Troop 1 already exceeds the 32 members of a full troop.

2 Shop Centers Asked Near Irvington

Rezoning applications for two giant shopping centers at Irvington will be heard November 8 by the County Planning Commission.

The applications are:

1. By Sunnyacres Development Co., for 15 acres owned by Dr. E. M. Grimmer north of the present grammar school. Sunnyacres plans several hundred homes at the rear of the center, according to reports.

2. By Dearborn Development Co. and Max Stevenson for 75 acres at the corner of PG&E Road and Highway 17. Dearborn officials say they want a large center to serve an eventual 4000 homes the Stanley Davis Organization plans for the surrounding land.

Both sites are now zoned residential. Both were asked for commercial zoning when Irvington was rezoned this summer, but were turned down when the planners asserted residential development didn't justify them.

Rummage Sale

Toyon Branch, Children's Hospital of the East Bay, will continue its current rummage sale at the former Niles Gift Shop through next week, according to Mrs. Robert Blacow, chairman of of the event.

Clarence Martenstein and Ida Curtis.

The high school moved to a new $11,000 home on Fremont Avenue near Parish that year. Not until 1924 did it occupy its present site.

Miss Crocker, daughter of a pioneer mining man, left to teach in Concord in 1899, then returned here briefly to care for her orphan nieces in 1909, then retired from teaching in 1920. For the past two years she has made her home with Miss Fair, grandniece of the famed Bonanza figure, Senator James G. Fair.

Unable to see since an operation 10 years ago, Miss Crocker nevertheless keeps well informed by listening to the radio and by reading in Braille.

"Seems like all I hear about are auto accidents," she comments tartly about the air waves. Gifted with a keen memory as well as excellent health, Miss Crocker pays frequent visits to her former pupils here, who remember her with affection. She looks forward to many more happy years in the Township on whose early education she left such a lasting mark.

Dr. Enos Offers Sanitarium As Hospital For $385,000

Directors of Washington Township Hospital district, planning to begin construction of a $1,250,000 hospital, last week had a "going" institution offered to them for $385,000.

Dr. Joseph B. Enos of Mission Road Sanitarium announced by letter that because a Catholic hospital will be built in Hayward's Tennyson road area, he would sell his institution. He said the sanitarium is now licensed as a 75-bed hospital, but could be expanded to an 81-bed size.

Enos said he will sell for $385,000, with 30 per cent to be paid in cash, and the balance in monthly payments over a 20 to 25 year period, with interest at five per cent.

The physician estimated that it would cost approximately $250,600 to convert the sanitarium to a community hospital. "This would give Washington Township a hospital at a total cost of $650,000," he contended. Dr. Enos unofficially had offered the sanitarium to the district two years ago for around $250,000.

The letter also stated that in the event the hospital board "does not realize this opportunity . . . it is honorable that I advise them of my long standing intentions to add required hospital facilities and develop a plan in the community similar to the Kaiser Plan."

Hospital Board President L. S. Whittaker termed the offer "worthy of consideration." Other directors agreed to a study of the proposal. Manuel Silva and A. E. Alameda were asked to inspect the sanitarium and bring their report to the next directors' meeting.

Plans for the community hospital are now in Sacramento and expected to be available here within a few weeks for calling for bids. Whitaker said.

More About Plea For 'Yes' Vote On School Tax

then, enrollment has doubled, but the tax has stayed the same.

Only by exhausting reserve funds this year was the school able to operate at all, Taylor explained.

In another talk to the Junior Chamber of Commerce last week, Coach Clyde Voorhees termed the tax increase "an absolute necessity," and said "the situation is dire."

Polls are located in all local schools on Tuesday, and will be open until 7 p.m.

Beloved 'Pop' Goold Counsels Washington Hi Youngsters

By DAISY MAE ISELIN

Warm Springs

J. Vernon Goold, District Superintendent of Washington Union High School, is more than just a man behind the desk. To 1200-plus students he is known as "Our Pop". He earned this title by his love and understanding for his youngsters.

When the students arrive in the morning for their classes, Goold is in the hall greeting them with a broad smile and "HI"! When they leave after school he is waiting by the buses. Waving a good-bye and smiling.

He calls every student by his given name, and is the first to recognize a troubled student.

"Hi Jonny, how are you"?

"Not so good Pop."

In no time at all Jonny walked with Pop into his office. The youngster took a seat at the long table used by the trustees for their meeting.

After their long talk Pop learned that the student was unhappy because he heard his father tell his mother that his job was insecure, with threatened layoffs coming.

Pop was very sympathetic and understanding. He assured the youngster that his father would take care of the matter.

Pop and the student talked through one whole period. Jonny returned to his classes with a better understanding of his family.

"A happy student is not a troubled student," says Pop. Then he goes on:

"We in this school try to make the youngsters, 1,080 hours a year happy hours. Our Counselors are selected with care. They realize that the youngsters are individuals and are to be treated thus."

Born in Gonzales, Monterey County, as a child, Goold helped in his parents jewelry store, while attending school.

He spent his freshman year at Gilroy High School, then transferred to Live Oak High in Morgan Hill, where he graduated with high honors. Then to Stanford University to receive his A.B. Degree in 1920.

He was chemistry and physical education teacher here from 1924 to 1941.

His hobby is horses. The hand-carved wooden statue of the horse on his desk is a replica of Patricia, his quarter-horse, a gift from his son Jim. He has taken care of "Pat" since she was small enough to carry in his arms.

Huskies Outmanned, Lose To Fremont

3 Indian Backs Gain 218 Yards In 32-6 Rout

By JERRY SANFORD

The Huskies of Washington High tasted defeat for the first time this season Friday night, getting trounced 32-6 by high-stepping Fremont High of Sunnyvale. It was the league opener for both teams.

The Indians got off to a crushing start, scoring three times in the first quarter. Halfback Steve Lynch ran the opening kickoff back 80 yards for Fremont's first score.

A few minutes later halfback Phil Cordero took a handoff and plowed over from the five yard line to put the Indians out in front, 13-0. Bud Smith tallied Fremont's third touchdown as he fought his way over the goal line from six yards out. The conversion was missed.

It looked as though Fremont's powerful running backs, Smith, Lynch and Cordero, would never be stopped, but the Huskies surprised everyone by holding them scoreless in the second quarter. Dave Koelsch, Conrad Preciado, Jerry Lizzardo and Merv Pinto starred in defense: The first half ended with Washington trailing, 19-0.

Early in the third period Cordero cut round right end for five yards and another Fremont score.

Washington's only moment of glory came midway in the third when left halfback Eddie Fletcher flipped a short pass to end Ken Galloway, good for 25 yards and the Huskies' only touchdown of the game. Craig Bellati missed the conversion.

Fremonts' final tally came in the last period when Mike Ruiz sped around left end for 14 yards to put the Indians four touchdowns ahead.

Husky fullback Ron Masuda and guard Steve Mento were out of action during the second half of the contest due to injuries received in the second quarter.

Between them, Cordero, Lynch and Smith ran up a total of 218 yards in 30 tries, for an average of better than 7 per play. The Huskies ended up with a minus five total.

In other games last Friday, Campbell squeezed by a stubborn Santa Cruz eleven 7-0 in a non-league tilt and James Lick thumped the Mountain View Eagles 26-7. Santa Clara stunned the favored Los Gatos Wildcats by scoring a 19-6 win. Clarence Nunes, 130-pound halfback, and Fred Blanco led the Panther attack.

Tomorrow afternoon the Huskies tangle with Los Gatos, preseason choice for the SCVAL title, in a league contest on the Wildcats' field.

Friday's score by quarters:

Washington	0	0	6	0	—6

Fourth-Quarter Rally Gives Pups 12-7 Win Friday

By JERRY SANFORD

The Washington High Puppies scored their second consecutive victory as they downed the Fremont B's 12-7, in a hard-fought battle last Friday night.

Washington received the opening kickoff and drove to Fremont's three yard line where they were stopped cold. Fremont took over on downs, but on the second play Arnold Hernandez scooped up a fumble on the five yard line and went over for Washington's first touchdown. The conversion was blocked.

Fremont scored their only touchdown early in the second quarter on a 45-yard run around left end. The Papooses ran the conversion over to go in the lead, 7-6. Both teams were held scoreless in the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter Stan Rebello intercepted a Fremont pass and was downed on the Indian 30-yard line. Five plays later Rebello crashed through from the three-yard line. The conversion was missed.

Then the Pups held Fremont behind the 50-yard marker for the balance of the fourth quarter to ice their second win of the season, 12-7.

Coach Gene Johnson's charges travel to Los Gatos this afternoon for their second league game. Last week Los Gatos tied the defending 'B' champions, Santa Clara, 6-6.

SCALLOP POTATOES WITH A SOUP-SAUCE

FALL brings a tide of fresh enthusiasm for things domestic. Mrs. Homemaker looks for improved ways to do things, from cleaning the house to preparing meals.

New ideas in the cooking department are always welcome. With gusto, the homemaker clips recipes from newspapers and magazines and tries them out on the family. When a dish meets their approval, she tucks the recipe into her file or cookbook to be used again real soon.

FNS

A "family-tested" recipe with a slightly different twist is scalloped potatoes made with condensed soup. A can of cream of chicken, celery or mushroom soup makes a smooth flavorful sauce for the potatoes. Once the family has tasted them prepared this way, they'll never want them any other. As Susy says, "They're scrumptious!"

A cup of cooked chicken or turkey (from can or roast) goes into the dish, too, as well as a bit of onion, pimiento, and seasonings. When all ingredients are combined in a casserole, they are whisked into the oven to bake for 30 minutes. That allows time for the homemaker to toss greens for a salad and warm some cheese-topped English muffins. Dessert could be fruited gelatin or apple brown Betty.

"Extra-Special" Scalloped Potatoes

1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of mushroom soup*
½ cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
Dash black pepper
1 small onion, minced
5 cups sliced cooked potatoes
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Blend soup, milk, salt, pepper and onion. Arrange alternate layers of potatoes and sauce in a greased 1½-quart casserole; dot top with butter. Bake in a hot oven (400° F.) for 30 minutes. 6 servings.

*Cream of celery or cream of chicken soup may be substituted.

Irvington Bank Discloses Plans For $100,000 Home; To Have Drive-In Window

Featuring such ultra-modern conveniences as a drive-in teller's window, the San Francisco Bank today disclosed plans to build a $100,000-plus new branch office at Irvington.

Carl M. Christensen, manager, said work on the new building will start within two months, and is scheduled to be completed by early next summer.

Christensen explained the building will be located on property recently purchased on Broadway, immediately north of the existing bank. Some features in the plan include:

1. Eleven teller's windows,
2. A drive-in window for carborne depositors,
3. A 60x100-foot air conditioned building, the northwest edge of which will be an 18x100-foot store.
4. An 18x18-foot bank lobby.
5. A 35x60-foot mezzanine floor in the rear of the bank.
6. Offices for four executives.
7. A large safe deposit vault and booths.
8. Parking for 50 cars, with two entrances — one on Broadway and one on Union Street.
9. A kitchen and rest rooms for employes.

Christensen explained the bank now owns frontage from its present corner northwest to Villela's Cafe. The new building will occupy the northwest frontage, with its parking lot extending into the present one used by the bank.

The Capital Co., builders for the bank, is expected to call for bids soon, he added.

The Berkeley Memorial stadium has a seating capacity of 38,000.

More than 1400 animals live in the San Francisco Zoo.

Protests Halt Sewer Annex

Protests by several landowners north of Irvington this week kept an 1160-acre parcel of land from being annexed to the Irvington Sanitary District.

Meeting Tuesday night, the commissioners declined to annex any portion of the tract, as requested by the rest of the landowners.

In a meeting Friday night, Dr. E. M. Grimmer, owner of 45 acres and a signer of the annexation petition, announced he was withdrawing his name. Two of his neighbors followed suit. This caused the board to withhold action.

It had been originally planed to run sewer mains through Dr. Grimmer's property, but proponents of the plan said today the shift may cause them to alter their plans.

At Friday's meeting, sanitary engineer Harry Goodridge estimated it would cost aroung $40,000 to serve the area, of which $8000 could be raised by bonds and the balance by assessments.

Washington Township Greets Super-Center

Hanan Investment Here More Than $120,000

Exciting news for Township shoppers comes with word that the latest in Elmer Hanan's chain of U-Save Markets will open today in Glenmoor Gardens.

The U-Save Center will be launched in a three-day blaze of entertainment, prizes--and grocery bargains, promises Hanan, a veteran retailer who heads the U-Save Corporation controlling markets in Berkeley, San Francisco—and now in Centerville.

Hanan was attracted to this community by the spectacular growth here in the past three years, but also by his analysis that past growth is only a sample of what is to come in Washington Township.

Investment in the giant 13,000-square-foot center totals more than $120,000. The market is one of the largest, and according to Hanan, certainly the finest, in the entire East Bay.

It contains complete grocery, meat, produce, liquor and notions departments. It will have five speedy check-stands. It boasts two spacious entrances. It will have parking for 370 cars.

"If they need more parking space, we'll build it," promises James R. Meyer, president of Glenmoor Homes, which built the market.

Free orchids will be given to ladies who visit U-Save on Friday and Saturday, Hanan concludes.

READERS WRITE US

Editor, Sir:

For personal reasons I shall not sign my name to this letter, and hope you will understand.

On Wed. Oct. 6, of this week about 1:30 p. m. I happened to be on my way home from shopping in Niles, when I saw the Niles Fire Department leaving the Fire Station on what I though was a fire call. Knowing that I was doing the wrong thing, I followed the trucks down the street to the back gate of the school grounds.

You don't know what a feeling it was to me to know that my two children were in that school at the time.

Then it came to me, this is Fire Prevention week as I witnessed one of the best demonstrations put on for the children of our school by the fire department. The firemen went through a well planned smoke drill and showed the pupils how a man was taken from the smoke filled building and worked on by a rescue crew to show just what the firemen do in such a case.

I do not know who was responsible for such a fine show, but I must say the fireman who talked to each group of children with a loud speaker, was very calm and explained each thing that the other men were doing step by step.

I do not know who was in charge of the show, but as a mother of two of the children that saw the drill I would like to say thank you to the men of the Niles Fire Dept. in this way.

A greatful mother
Mrs. Edith B.

Night Opening For C'ville Stores Looms

Night shopping for Centerville may be in effect soon, according to Gordon Morris, head of Centerville Merchants Association.

At a meeting last week, Ed Vierra was appointed to study plans for night shopping. Vierra will try to interest merchants in Friday night openings until 9 o'clock, Morris said.

Consideration of a bus line for shoppers was postponed. Some members had proposed to operate busses to attract shoppers. Results of a recent poll indicate that residents are not ready for such a service, Morris said.

Jerry "Stitch" Edwards was appointed vice president of the association and Fred Richardson was named treasurer. Mildred Amaral earlier was named secretary. Other directors include George Kolberg, Jerry Dutra, Vierra and Morris.

Officers Named For C'ville PTA

Officers for the Centerville Elementary School P.T.A. for the 1954-55 school year are:

Mrs. John Silva, president; Mrs. Pearl Castro, vice-president; Tom Maloney, second vice president; Mrs. Richard Mendonca, recording secretary; Mrs. Stebler Loze, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Philip Brazil, treasurer; Mrs. Alonzo Spencer, anditor; Mrs. George Kay, historian; Mrs. Gene Ramsell, parliamentarian.

The P.T.A. membership is underway; anual dues for an individual are $1.00; annual dues for Mother and Father for a year are $1.50.

"It appears that membership for this school will approach the six hundred mark," Mrs. Silva declares.

Anyone wishing to join may send or mail his dues to the Centerville School or Allen G. Norris School.

Steel Strike Ends At Niles; Mill 'Lights Up'

The two-month Pacific States' steel strike ended early Friday, and the first group of the 500 striking CIO Steelworkers returned to work immediately.

A company spokesman said the balance will be back on the job at Niles as soon as furnaces are operating again and necessary repairs are made. Bricklayers and maintenance men returned first.

The union walked out July 31 in dissatisfaction over contract proposals made by Pacific States management pertaining to job jurisdiction.

The company representative said "Big Steel" patterns were followed, granting the men five cents an hour and another nickel in job benefits, but said "none of the operating conditions" were decided at the latest meeting in Niles which ended the work stoppage. He declined to comment on when or how these issues would be negotiated.

Signing the new contract for the Steelworkers were Leon Curtis, president of Local 3367, and negotiating committee chairman Phil Preston.

It was the second strike at the mill in less than a year. The workers went out for 42 days last October. The more recent strike lasted 68 days.

In the latest dispute, unionists charged management wanted to replace construction men with maintenance men, and management replied it had to meet competitive conditions to stay in business.

Corp. Costa En Route to Korea

Cpl. Manuel G. Costa, son of Mrs. Mary Costa, 156 Stevens St., Centerville, is leaving Korea for Hawaii with the 25th Infantry Division, which is returning to its home at Schofield Barracks.

Costa, in Korea since September, 1953, is an instrument operator in the 14th Regiment of the division.

The 21-year-old soldier entered the Army in February, 1953.

TB X-Ray Unit In Centerville, Niles Next

The mobile X-ray unit of the Alameda County Tuberculosis and Health Association will be in Centerville and Niles for the next two weeks completing the current Washington Township X-ray survey, Mrs. J. R. Whipple, project chairman, reported today.

From Tuesday, October 19, through Saturday, October 23, the Christmas Seal X-ray truck will be in operation in Centerville from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 2 to 6 p.m. daily.

On Tuesday and Wednesday it will be parked in front of the Centerville Food Market and on Thursday, Friday and Saturday by the Safeway Store.

From Wednesday, October 16, through Saturday, October 30, it will be stationed in front of the Central Bank, Niles.

Directing the health project in the two communities are Mrs. Allen E. Walton, Centerville, and Mrs. Rose Vieux and Edward E. Enos.

No advance appointments are necessary and there is no charge for the X-ray service, Mrs. Whipple pointed out.

Provision of free minifilm chest X-rays to persons 15 years of age and over is one of the community health services made possible by the TB Association's annual Christmas Seal sale, she explained.

326 Classrooms Need in Co. To Ease Half-Day Sessions

It would require approximately 326 new classrooms, or the equivalent of 33 ten-room schools, to do away with half-day sessions in Alameda County at the present time, Dr. Vaughn D. Seidel, county schools' superintendent said today.

There are now 10,438 grade school pupils on half-day sessions in 11 of the 37 school districts in the county. This is nearly twice the number of children on half-day sessions last spring, Dr. Seidel said.

In March, there were 2,346 children in the Alameda, Oakland and San Leandro unified districts, and 4,234 children in nine of the rural and suburban districts on half-day sessions.

At the present time there are 2,029 children on half-day sessions in two city districts, Oakland and San Leandro, and 8,405 children in the following rural and suburban districts: Castro Valley, Decoto, La Vista, Livermore, Mission San Jose, Mt. Eden, Newark, Niles, and San Lorenzo.

"This means that almost a third of all grade school children in these rural districts are being short-changed educationally," Dr. Seidel said.

"If teachers are to cover required subject matter in the fields of reading, writing and arithmetic during a half-session school year, it has to be at the expense of other learnings that are equally important.

"Training in manners and morals, good citizenship, and healthful living, as well as music, crafts, physical education, social studies and other areas of the curriculum, even though all these are included in the prescribed course of study, are slighted because teachers find there isn't enough time to cover everything. As it is, if children are to read, write and spell on schedule, teachers have to administer these subjects in too highly-concentrated doses.

"Teachers find, too, that primary children who attend the afternoon session are more tired, and consequently less alert, than children who come to school in the morning.

"The part played by classroom environment in the learning situation is a basic principle in education. Not only is it essential that distractions be kept down to a mimimum, but it is highly desirable that a child be permitted to feel a sense of identification with his own room, desk, closet and his handiwork posted on the blackboard or wall. This is impossible on a share-the-room basis, which poses numerous other problems as far as student and teacher morale are concerned.'

Injured Ex-Deputy Faces New Career

Wayne Osburn of Newark, handicapped photography student enrolled at Laney Trade and Technical Institute, a division of Oakland Junior College, today faces the future with optimism as the attention of employers is directed toward qualified potential job holders during National Employ the Physically Handicapped week.

Osburn, an employee in the communications division of the Alameda County Sheriff's office, lost his hand in a power saw accident a year and a half ago and is now preparing for a career as a crime photographer.

Prior to his accident, Osburn worked out of the sheriff's office as a patrolman in Southern Alameda County.

Undaunted by his handicap, the Laney student drives his own car and does anything for himself. "In fact, I don't know of anything he can't do," said William High, his instructor.

WUHS Junior At FFA Convention

Chosen as winner of the FFA public speaking contest here, he will represent the Centerville Chapter, and also the section which also includes chapters at Livermore, Pleasanton, Hayward and Half Moon Bay.

Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Harris of Centerville. He joined other delegates at Los Angeles and took part in a side trip to New Orleans before going to Kansas City for the three-day convention.

The delegate here is sponsored jointly by the Rotary Club, the Lions and the F.F.A.

PINOCHLE RESULTS

Decoto Pinochle Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Harklercad Sunday evening. Don Morgan made high score, second was Mrs. Al Cadero and low, Chuck Spencer. Delicious home-made pie and coffee was served after twenty hands of upsets.

Health Theme At Hillview PTA Meet

Mrs. George Reynolds opened the recent Hillview Crest P.-T. A. meeting by introducing J. V. Goold, Principal of Washington Union High School, who spoke on the necessity for voting more funds for the school on October 19.

Mrs. Robert McCloud of the South East Bay Girl Scout Council explained Girl Scout leadership and asked for recruits to be neighborhood chairman in Hillview.

Centerville C. of C. Rejects Stevenson Parking Offer

Centerville Chamber of Commerce members voted this week to reject an offer by Jack Stevenson to double the size of their proposed parking lot.

Stevenson had offered additional property for the 50-car lot, but attached the proviso that part of it later revert to him if he decides to build a shopping center at the Main street site.

Phil Willis, chairman of the chamber's parking committee, said a canvass of subscribers and contractors who have volunteered $4,200 worth of materials to build the lot, have flatly rejected the Stevenson addition. The unfavorable vote followed.

A lease on the lot was concluded despite Stevenson's last-minute proposal.

Willis said most merchants appeared to fear that Stevenson might lease stores adjoining the lot to their competitor. Stevenson explained he wanted the chance to use it if he and Mrs. Marie Bettencourt, who owns the property leased to the chamber, decided to join in a shopping center project.

"We'd be giving away part of our lot for nothing," commented Dr. John Austin, member of the chamber parking committee.

Crosswalks Asked For MSJ School

Safety crosswalks for Mission San Jose schoolchildren have been requested from the County Engineer's office by the local mothers' club.

A committee headed by Mrs. Stuart Nixon submitted sketches showing proposed walks at (1) Vine & Ellsworth, (2) Vine & Bryant, (3) the Irvington Road at Ellsworth St., and (4) repainting two already in existence on Highway 9.

Mrs. May Williams, principal, said today the assistant county traffic engineer, A. E. Bossi, had received the plans and will advice the school of results shortly.

The Mothers Club meets tonight under presidency of Mrs. Howard Overacker to hear a talk on highway safety by John C. Spencer of the State Automobile Association from Sacramento.

SIGN TROUBLE

Problem of obtaining property rights is stalling the anticipated moves north and south of Irvington's present neon town signs, Jack Stevenson reported Tuesday to the local chamber of commerce.

Centerville Catholic School Drive Names Committees

Assignments to the community-wide organization being formed to raise funds with which to build a parochial elementary school in Centerville were completed Monday.

Named to the staff of consultants who will assist Judge Allen G. Norris and A. D. Lewis, executive co-chairmen of the Action Committee of the school building program of the Church of the Holy Ghost were Will Andrade, farmer; George Smith, builder; Romeo Brunelli, automobile dealer; Manuel Lewis, postmaster; Joe Jason, manufacturer; and John Lewis, Manuel Bernardo, Jack De Luce, Fred Lewis and A. O. Maciel, all in the farming industry in Centerville.

Other committee assignments were Mrs. Charles Allen, accounting committee; Mrs. Ferdinand Mosegaard, hospitality; Mary George, incentive awards; Vince Bettencourt, memorial placque; Genevieve Ereitas, office staff; Mrs. Richard Mendonca, publicity; Mary Caldeira, prayer and devotion; Manuel Vierra, transportation; Harry Weber, ways and means; and Manuel Homan, dinner.

Following the committee assignments, Judge Norris announced a free dinner for volunteer workers in the organization would be given Saturday evening, October 30. The dinner will climax preparations for the actual solicitation of funds, which will begin the following day, Sunday, October 31, with an outdoor Dedication Mass conducted by Rev. Vincent I. Breen, pastor of the Church of the Holy Ghost.

At an earlier meeting, Father Breen told the Action Committee that the vigorous campaign currently getting underway was the result of ever-increasing requests by members of the parish for a parochial school.

"There are more than 900 Catholic children of pre-school and elementary school age in our parish, we have found by taking a census," Father Breen told the members. That is more than enough to fill a school now and in years to come. And unless the school is built now, we would never be able to accommodate all those who wish to attend a parochial school."

The Action Committee has set goal of $200,000, which, Father Breen said, will provide an eight-room school complete with cafeteria, administration office and clinic. The school will be built on the church property located at Main Street and Parish Avenue. Arthur Rist, well-known church and school architect, is drawing the plans.

Before adjourning the meeting, Judge Norris announced the group will meet again Monday evening, October 11.

City Plan Topic Before Kiwanis

The scope of good city planning was discussed before the Newark Kiwanis club Monday night by Stanley Z. Twardus, member of the planning staff of the city of San Jose.

Twardus was introduced by Bill Gastelum, program chairman. He gave a comprehensive analysis of good planning with emphasis on the beautification of streets through tree planting and elimination of offensive advertising signs.

Manuel Rose outlined plans for a combined ladies night and installation of officers on the first anniversary of the Kiwanis club charter night. The affair will be held on Saturday, November 27 at the Castlewood Country Club.

'Register' Has Colorful History – Traces Ancestry To 1890 Irvington 'Press'

By STUART NIXON

The Township REGISTER, which this week was officially consolidated with the Washington NEWS to make the Washington Township NEWS-REGISTER, has had a long and colorful history, closely tied to the development of this region.

Ancestors of the REGISTER included the Alameda County INDEPENDENT, started in Irvington in 1874; the EXPRESS, vintage of 1887; and the Washington PRESS, launched by E. B. Thompson in the same town in 1890 after Thompson left the EXPRESS.

First paper to be printed in Niles was the Niles HERALD, started by J. G. Vivian in 1896. Vivian sold it a few weeks later to the Walters twins, Albert and Herbert, a whimsical pair who rode bicycles and delighted in confusing people by means of their identical appearance.

The Walters' plant was located on J Street, behind what is now I.O.O.F. Hall. It featured an 1840-Potter drum-cylinder press purchased when the old Oakland JOURNAL suspended publication in the '90s.

In 1904, Thompson bought out the Walters, consolidating the HERALD with his Washington PRESS and publishing in Niles.

A glance at the HERALD for May 31, 1901, shows that the paper was published on Friday, measured five columns wide, and flaunted an intricately - embellished masthead after the fashion of the day, centered on a map of Washington Township.

The May 31 issue advised that commencement exercises would be held at Washington Union High School and that the graduating class consisted of C. M. Jordan, Kullman Salz, Charles Haley and Charles Gale.

E. E. Southwick was endorsed for school trustee. Memorial Day services at the Irvington Cemetery would feature the playing of taps by Leland Cutler (later president of the 1939 Fair at Treasure Island.)

The Walters Brothers—who also conducted a real estate office—commented acidly on their San Francisco colleagues as follows:

"The Good Book says that all liars shall have their portion of the Lake of Fire & Brimstone. We hardly see if the Examiner and their force of writers get their share how there can be any left for other poor unfortunates."

Meantime in Newark, early in 1908, the Pacific Land Improvement Co. started the Newark REGISTER to promote sale of subdivisions. This paper became the Township REGISTER when it was taken over on April 9, 1908, by J. T. Fonte. Fonte published it in Niles, in a building on a triangular-shaped piece of property opposite what is now the Niles Theater.

In Niles, Chris Runckel, a former Decoto schoolteacher, bought the Washington PRESS from Thompson in 1906. The town thus had two newspapers.

Runckel was a firebrand. He was one of the first to oppose the Spring Valley Water Co. in what he termed a "callous grab" of water rights along Alameda Creek.

A glance at a contemporary edition shows, that on Saturday April 25, 1908, the Western Pacific had nearly finished its new tunnel in Niles Canyon. Roast beef was selling for seven cents a pound, and five-room cottages on acre lots in Niles were offered at $2500. Mrs. Chittenden at the Belvoir Hotel advertised "a pleasant country home for families, commercial men and bicyclists."

On September 1, 1911, Runckel frontpaged the information that the PRESS was 20 years old, and that it has "stressed reform, better primaries, better ballot systems, the referendum and recall.' Also noted: outbound Southern Pacific trains stopped in Niles 13 times daily and inbound ones, seven times.

The REGISTER meanwhile had been inherited by Fonte's stepson, William A. Jefferis. Under the masthead in smaller letters it carried the words "Newark Register." It was a six-column paper on Saturday, May 9, 1914 when it chronicled the death of rancher Harrison Allen Mayhew, 78, who had come to the landing named for his family in 1854, had been named president of the San Francisco Produce Exchange, and had moved to Niles in 1882. Said the REGISTER:

"Another Argonaut has gone to his reward."

The Essanay Studios were going full steam, and the Bell Theatre appropriately was showing an Essanay effort: "Alkali Ike and The Bad Men," as well as Episode 2 of "The Perils of Pauline."

The PRESS noted on October 10, 1914, that the Associated Chamber of Commerce of Alameda County had commended

Township's Community Paper Occupies Centerville Plant

With today's issue of the NEWS-REGISTER, Washington Township's historic weekly journals at last find themselves merged into a single publication.

The Township also finds itself with a bigger, more complete community newspaper than ever before.

And the former Washington NEWS and Township REGISTER find themselves in a handsome concrete-block building of the most modern type, especially designed for a newspaepr which has made a vigorous decision to keep up with the West's fastest-growing, most vigorous region of future promise.

Investment in the new NEWS-REGISTER office and newspaper-and-printing plant is "more than $85,000", according to George H. Oakes and Stuart Nixon, owners of the enterprise.

The building was constructed in 58 working days at 177 Fremont Avenue, Centerville, by R. A. Griffin, Irvington contractor. It was designed by Raymond Layton, Hayward engineer. Local suppliers and labor was used as far as possible in the job.

Decision to merge the two newspapers was taken last spring by Oakes and Nixon. It had become apparent that the separate papers, while commanding the loyalty of local readers and advertisers to the maximum extent then possible, would find it hard to compete separately against outside interests then poised to enter this field.

Oakes and Nixon published newspapers different in treatment, but agreeing on the main issue: the welfare of Washington Township. Therefore after brief negotiations, it was decided to consolidate the NEWS and REGISTER.

When this was done, operations shifted to the REGISTER'S plant in Niles, while the new corporation, Washington Township Newspapers, Inc., undertook construction of the present plant in Centerville.

Oakes assumed the title of publisher, and Nixon that of editor-manager. The two papers - and Oakes' Alvarado PIONEER - took on an increasingly similar appearance. Public demand was carefully tested, and appeared to point toward a single Township paper, in which the best characteristics of both NEWS and REGISTER would be combined, with the chance for improvement heightened by being able to concentrate on one paper.

With the October 14 issue, therefore, NEWS and REGISTER, and subscribers will receive the single paper. This week's issue, 24 pages, is also the largest newspaper ever published in Washington Township.

Oakes is the former publisher of the Hayward JOURNAL, and is the scion of a pioneer South County newspaper family. He purchased the NEWS in 1940 after starting the PIONEER 11 years earlier.

Nixon formerly was a hotel advertising man in San Francisco. After four years in the Marine Corps in World War II, he worked on a Stockton daily paper until 1952, when he bought the REGISTER. He and his wife and three children live in Mission San Jose.

Early Politicos Used 'Register' For Advertising

By N. W. ARMSTRONG

Back in 1922 when Alameda County office-holders were anxious to get votes, the first public official to recognize the value of newspaper advertising was the late Ezra Decoto, a native of the town of Decoto.

The one-time Washington Township boy who made good in the law, took an ad in the Township Register and paid cash in advance for the ad. Books of the paper show that some candidates were not as honest as the District Attorney and never did pay for their advertising.

Heading the small army of field workers for Decoto in 1922 were many of his school mates from Decoto. His most devoted assistant was Frank M. Shay, currently manager of the Prune and Apricot Association with headquarters in San Jose. Shay is also regional president of the California State Chamber of Commerce.

The country boy who was born in Decoto later became president of the State Railroad Commission and eventually a Superior Court Judge for Alameda County. To earn money to complete his university education, Ezra Decoto taught in a one-room school down in Stanislaus County.

Other names mentioned in early editions of this newspaper who were closely identified with county politics include Charles Horner, one time supervisor and later County Assessor; the late Judge Ralph Richmond who was elevated to supervisor when he defeated the late Tom Knox.

Probably there was no more interesting or colorful office-holder than the late John G. Mattos, the self-taught immigrant who qualified for the law and held many federal and state positions of importance such as United States Appraiser for the Port of San Francisco, and member of the California State Prison Board.

Mattos was also Justice of the Peace, school trustee, supreme treasurer of the U.P.E.C.; organizer of Centerville's first bank and later an advisor to the famous banker A. P. Giannini.

Going further back we read about Captain Charles Eigenbrodt who resigned as chairman of the Board of Supervisors to become a Captain in the California One Hundred. Eigenbrodt was killed in battle down in Virginia while fighting for the Union side in the Civil War.

Washington Township also sent the late Superior Judge Ogden to a position on the bench. In later years his son, the late Frank Ogden, was named to a similar position. From Mission San Jose another country school teacher, the late William Donahue, was elected district attorney and later Superior Judge. Alvarado's contribution to the hall of political fame was the late Supervisor George P. Hellwig.

Law enforcement agents who cherished the title of Township Constable included such fearless men as Frank Botelho, Frank Rose, Thomas Silva, and many others who played an important

The Centerville Story

Washington News In Forefront

By GEORGE H. OAKES,
Publisher, News - Register

This week is history-making in Washington Township, because the paper printed at Niles has joined the paper printed at Centerville.

The history of each town largely in the past revolved around a few leaders in each town, who faithfully fought for their town's growth. Now with the coming growth with newcomers, we are thinking in terms of towns pulling together to further the whole township. If local history wants to remember me for anything, let me candidly hope they will remember that I set an example of competitors pulling together.

In many things of township growth, let me hope I have set an example of thinking in terms of township growth—less of individual grandeur. In the 10 years since I have purchased the paper, I tried to carry on the fair practices of Miles Smith.

Looking back to the files of the Washington News, we see the record of the stand-out politicians, doctors, merchants of each town. We note that the founder of the "News," Miles Smith, after selling the Niles "Township Register" in 1922, started the first Centerville paper. The sad passing of the founder of this paper last year, brings to the mind of many local men, "Miles Smith never had an enemy, and he did a great deal to boost every civic movement in the Township."

BUSINESS MEN IN 1922

In speaking to Fred Rogers, fire chief at Centerville when Smith's paper started, he told how Smith located a newspaper press in a dwelling on Main Street, near where Abreu's Store is now. Later it was moved around the corner next to the Bank of America on the Fremont Street side. The fire department and Water District uppermost in boosting by Smith.

F. T. Hawes, a jolly, stoutly-built man, was the big man of that day, and conducted the dry goods store on Main St., with

CAROLLING AROUND NEWARK

JEANNE & GENE CARROLL
NEWARK 3-3564

AROUND TOWN—

Do you realize that there are only 61 shopping days till Christmas??? Looks like Christmas is coming earlier this year. We were shocked into insensibility (not much of a shock, we admit) a month ago when we watched wide-eyed at Sears & Houston as a lady (a real early-bird) had scads of gifts from S & H's super toyland "layed-away" for Christmas giving. If we had had the strength we would have asked, "how do you do it gal?" But we had only the strength to tip our hat in respect . . . and amazement.

We have trouble making out our Christmas shopping lists so it is easy to feel pity toward the businessman who is trying to read our jumbled minds so he can order what we want. Lots of gift lists can be shortened with bargains at the Newark Pharmacy and Mission Pharmacy during the ONE-CENT SALE which started yesterday and ends Saturday the 16th. If Walter Haller and Gregg Vernon want to have give-aways we'll be first in line . . for a penny we'll be second . . . and for two cents we'll go on to another subject.

What could be a better subject than a pretty gal? So we will introduce you to the newest addition to the News-Register office staff . . . Newark's own Jean (Mrs. Bob) Richards.

Don't forget the Special High School District Tax election next Tuesday. Your vote means more than you think. The new school addition and hundreds of additional students mean added expenses. The proposed increase of the maximum tax rate from 75c to $1.25 is needed to maintain a proper level of school services and program, according to the school officials and trustees. It's up to YOU!

It looks like we will have a 4-H Club in Newark. There seems to be lots of interest among boys and girls ten years and older and it leaves only the problem of signing community leaders and project leaders . . it s always so much easier to find interested youngsters than it is to find interested adults. The 4-H Club will soon be organized and hold an election of officers (maybe at the meeting Tuesday night) because at the first meeting those present definitely wanted the club.

It also looks like this will be a big Halloween in Newark. Parades, dancing, free popsicles—6:30 p.m.—Kiwanis picking up the check and furnishing of the manpower — Kiwanians seem to be in the front when boys and girls benefit. Maybe this type of evening activity will curb Trick and Treat door-bell ringing.

Paul and Katharine Heiling entertained Arthur and Mary A. Silva and Louie and Hazel Caldeira last Thursday evening. After a wonderful dinner, the Heilings showed movies of their travels, which, their guests say, were "literally "out of this world."

Mrs. Viola Gorman was hostess for a surprise stork shower in honor of Mrs. Kay Storey of Centerville in her Thornton Avenue home last Friday evening. Guests at the pink and blue affair included: Miss Betty Grass and the Mmes. Kathleen Grass, Pat Pierce, Janet Mohn, Lenora Miller, Betty Johnson, Mable Breen, Ruth Horn, Hope Cardana, Fern Storey and Jean Dillman.

Gathered around a festive table at Lou"s Village in San Jose on Saturday, October 2 we found a gay group singing happy birthday to Helen Bettencourt. It was rushing the happy day but that didn't lessen the enjoyment of a wonderful evening for the group that included Helen's ever-loving, Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ornellas, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Rivers, and Mr. and Mrs. Emilio Re.

Guests of Mrs. Mary Amaral and her son Bob, for Sunday dinner were Elmer and Bettie Nelson and daughter Sherry.

It's a girl! Stanley and Shirley Rogers accepted their second stork delivery on Friday, October 1, at Permanente Hospital in Oakland. Glenna Joan is the name they chose for this 21-inch package of sweetness weighing 6 pounds, 11 ounces, who came to join Coleen in the Rogers home.

Jean Hoover celebrated her 12th birthday last Tuesday with a party carried out in the Halloween theme. Enjoying the games, dancing and refreshments were: Jimmy Barthe, Judy Davis, Dennis Holderfield, Mary Lou Kennedy, Buddy Montero, Janice Lewis, Charles Correia, Rosalie Gonsalez, Gary Boyer, Janet Springer, David Lyons, Marcia Johnston, James Robertson, Beverly Caddy and Richard Souza. Mrs. Mary Hoover and Mrs. Irene Davis were "supervisors."

Billy Minnette celebrated his sixth birthday with an outdoor party where his young friends could enjoy more robust games before sitting down to the individual cakes and ice cream refreshments. Billy's guests included: Ellen and Dennis Jones, Ronnie and Diane Bettencourt, Jackie Bimemiller, Carol Rodrigues, Pamela and Mark Ezra, Paul Leach, Judy and Lee Hanson, Billy Davidson, his big sister Gayle and baby sister Deborah who just past her first birthday on September 29.

Glad to report that Nolan Ezra wasn't seriously hurt in the auto accident in front of the High School last Wednesday.

Mrs. Mary A. Silva celebrated her 71st birthday on Tuesday, October 12, and she was a mighty happy young lady as she was surrounded by her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren who were together for a pot-luck dinner and party in her honor. Sitting on her right was her husband, Arthur, and around the table was her daughters and their families: Joe and Lena Caldeira, Ed and Emily Loba, Louie and Hazel Caldeira, Tony and Claudie Rocha, James and Jeannette McCullough, Marvin and Lucille Middaugh and Joe and Elizabeth Milani.

Surprises were in order for the infanticipating Mrs. Ben Myers when she arrived at her bridge club meeting last Thursday evening. This one turned out to be a surprise baby shower with Mrs. G. Merle Witcraft the hostess in her specially-decorated home.

Guests included: Mmes. George Worley, Alex DeKnoop, Mac Currie, Bob Milne, John Mason and Paul Melvin.

Let's sing out a few carrollograms that came over the wires—to little Jack and Jill See, the nursery rhyme twins, who celebrated their fourth birthday last Saturday—to Bob Phippen as he celebrated his eighth yesterday—to Jo Ann De Camara who celebrated yesterday but is "awaiting' the arrival of the most wonderful present of all—her first baby — to Ralph Cardana who should be blowing out five candles sometime today—to Barbara Dias as she opens presents tomorrow—to Dorothy Joyce Barks who will be two Saturday and delighted with all the excitement it creates—to Pat Collins (we can't leave this gal out) who will be happy birthdaying on Saturday—whoops, we almost missed it—to our neighbor Pat Pierce.

Don't forget to put your tied-up bundles of paper on the sidewalk early Saturday morning for the Scout paper drive.

Dancing at Swiss Park this Saturday night—Joe Reichmuth and Company play those delightful polkas, landlers, etc.

Dancing for adults at the Community Center on Saturday, October 23—rounds, squares, moderns—free — refreshments, too—so we understand—a good chance for you neighbors to get acquainted with your Rec Center and have some fun.

It was parade time again last Sunday and right in the middie we found La Verne Soito riding Tony Martin's Sirocco and Judy Martin riding her own, Honey, in the YMI parade at Santa Clara.

The Newark Women's Improvement Club will hold it's annual whist party at the school on Friday, October 22, 8 p.m., we hear from Mrs. Robert Milani, chairman. The Improvement Club always seems to come up with a good party, so here is a chance for whist devotees to enjoy another evening of competition.

40 Sentenced To Die In Local Trial

Two-score chanticleers were sentenced to death, 14 cockfight fans were found guilty, and a 15th was charged with perjury last week as Judge E. A. Quaresma wound up the Case of Rooster vs. Rooster, (Decoto version).

Only Henry Andrade, owner of the Decoto ranch where sheriff's officers staged an August 29 raid, was adjudged innocent.

Andrade's foreman, Carlos Burgos, 43, was found guilty and was fined $25 for arranging an illegal cockfight. So were 13 other men.

Fred Mangrubang, 52, of Halfmoon Bay, one of the 13, also was charged with perjury when he denied statements claimed to have been made to officers at the raid.

The evidence—40 roosters—of whom six were in court, crowing, was remanded to Santa Rita Prison Farm for cooking.

Episcopal Church Site Deal Fails

St. James Episcopal Church will not buy a 2-acre site for a new church on Santos Road.

This word came last week following a vestry meeting.

Restrictions placed on the use of the property by the Alameda County Water District, the seller, makes the site unsuitable for the church, L. S. Whitaker Jr., a member of the building committee said.

Hearing Set On Decoto Walks

A public hearing on the formation of a $336,800 sidewalk district in Decoto will be held by the Board of Supervisors on October 28.

The board last week voted to advertise the meeting which is to determine the necessity and need for a special assessment district. It also adopted a set of plans and profiles drawn by the engineering firm of Bryan and Murphy and a resolution of intention to proceed with the plans.

Atty. Eugene K. Sturgis, prepared the documents necessary for the board action. In estimating the total cost at $336,800, he said that it was $22,000 less than orginninally plotted.

Sturgis said that there are between 800 and 900 lots, owned by 500 persons, involved in the program.

The scheme would be financed with 6 per cent bonds and the assessments from property owners would be collected on tax bills, as provided under a 1911 sidewalk act.

U.S.-Canada Trip Described By Heilings

Paul and Katharine Heiling have returned from an extended trip through the United States and Canada which convinced them that both countries abound with wonderful vacation lands.

From Texas, which naturally has the "biggest" of everything, to Florida and Key West where Miami sands and deep-sea fishing at Jacksonville highlighted their stay; through the Smokey Mountain National Park in Tennessee and a visit to the famed Calumet Farms in Kentucky on to Ohio, Illinois and Wisconsin where they found time to enjoy visiting Paul's sister and brother; to Winnipeg and Flin-Flon, Manitoba, Canada to visit Katharine's sister and brother; through Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia down along the beautiful New England coastline to New York and a "peek" at the United Nations buildings; sightseeing in Washington D.C. and then westward to Truth-or-Consequences Hot Springs, New Mexico where they relaxed for a week; then on to Boulder Dam, Lake Tahoe and home.

It is impossible to condense a description of a five and a half month tour of this wonderful country into one paragraph except by giving a general idea of the itinerary chosen by the Heilings. They did arrive in Winnipeg in time to celebrate their 30th wedding anniversary, June 21, with Katharine's sister, Mrs. Mary Rogers.

Deep-sea fishing off the Florida coast proved to be a successful expedition for Paul as he landed a 49-pound catch of red snappers and sea bass. Tours through the King Edward Cigar plant in Tampa, and the tremendous Proctor & Gamble plant in Cincinnati, were educational and interesting.

TOWN TID-BITS

by PAT BINDER

ANNA LEAL (right)

This week's good cook is Anna Leal of Irvington.

Anna needs no introduction to old-timers in this area. She was born in Milpitas and has lived in the Township for over 30 years.

Among her many talents, she is an excellent dressmaker and is known throughout Santa Clara County as well as the Township for her cooking.

Anna offers her own recipe for quince-mint jelly.

Wash, core and slice 6 medium size quince. Add 8 cups of water, cover and boil 35 minutes in heavy kettle. Remove from stove and drain through thin cloth. Measure and add add equal amount of sugar plus one cup. Boil 25 to 30 minutes.

Add five sprigs of medium size mint last five minutes of boiling. Add 5 drops of green food coloring.

Makes approximately four jelly glasses.

Newark PTA Backs School Music Plans

The Newark P.T.A. voted a $130 contribution to the music department of the school to highlight its first meeting of the year last Tuesday.

The Newark school has two full-time music teachers and has embarked on an ambitious program to provide a musical background for its students. Mrs. Evelyn Kipp is voice teacher and Edwin Maughan teaches instrumental music.

Mrs. Kipp said, "this contribution will put a tonette in the hands of every fourth grade student."

The membership drive got off to a wonderful start as the turnout of 205, largest attendance ever at a Newark P.T.A. meeting, gave the drive initial impetus. Mrs. Robert Peters, membership chairman, will spearhead the drive which will continue until the next meeting on Tuesday, November 2.

This year's salvage drive will be held from November 1 through November 5 with Mrs. Louis Serafino, chairman in charge. Profits will be divided equally between the classrooms and the new P.T.A. youth fund.

Mrs. Marty Sammon, president, appointed a committee to study the various accident-insurance plans offered for student protection. Mrs. Earl Willburn will be chairman of the committee which includes: Manuel Montero, Alex De Knoop, Frank Gygax and Monford Krueger.

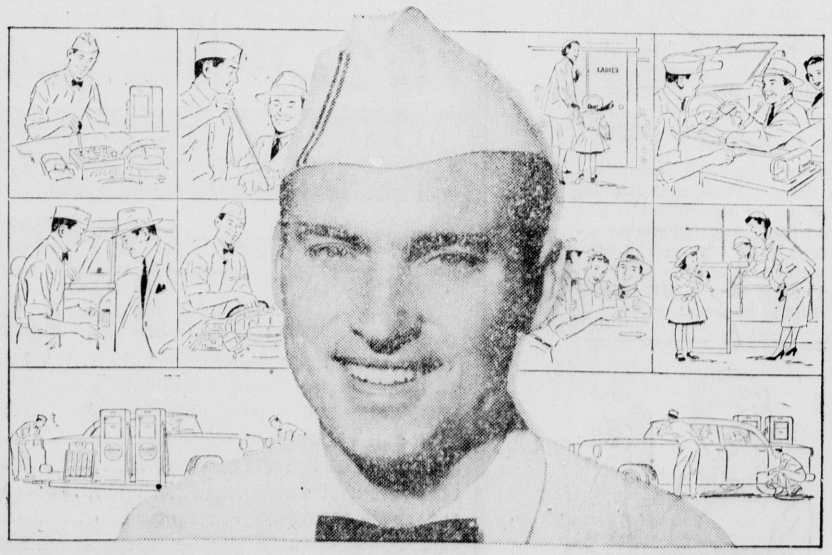
Competition... leads to the world's best service

The world's first service station was opened by Standard Oil Company of California in Seattle, Washington, in 1907, two years after cars came to the Pacific Coast. Pioneer motorists, tired of wrestling 5-gallon cans to fill their tanks, flocked to this convenient gasoline station. Other suppliers saw the point . . . service stations soon sprang up all over and the competition to serve you better began.



Look how it is today! Here are just a few of the services you now find at Independent Chevron Stations and Standard Stations. We originated many of them in competing with hundreds of other companies for your business. This competition that has brought you more convenient motoring has grown with the West. Since 1907, we've seen the total number of Western gas stations grow from our lone Seattle pioneer to 26,000 today. For us it has meant working harder to merit your business . . . investing $275 million in 1954 alone to find new oil and improve our refinery output . . . spending more than $35 million in the last 5 years for research and technical services to bring better products to motorists, industry and farms. Since this is Oil Progress Week, we'd like to remind you that this competition which sparks oil progress brings you more miles-per-gallon of gas, lubricants that lengthen your car's life—and the world's best service.

More On The Register Story

"highway work on the Mission San Jose pass," that eight men were fined by Judge John Mattos for "exceeding the speed limit of 30 miles per hour," and that three banks in the Township had combined assets of more than $1,500,000. These were the Bank of Alameda County at Alvarado and Irvington ($713,496); the Bank of Centerville ($700,531); and the Niles State Bank ($156,173.)

The PRESS and the REGISTER were sold to Miles Smith in 1917. A four-page sheet on Saturday, December 22, the WASHINGTON PRESS told how Red Cross workers under Mrs. James R. Whipple raised 1800 pounds of food and 2340 pounds of clothing for war victims in Europe. A reward of $1000 was offered "for the arrest of parties who poured crude oil on B. A. Brown's duck pond at Arden Station" north of Newark.

Smith dropped the PRESS name and sold the REGISTER to Herbert Fahey in 1921, then Smith moved to Centerville, where he started the Washington NEWS the following year.

Fahey and J. P. Hood were publishing the REGISTER on Thursdays in 1923. But the proprietors were C. W. Ford and M. D. Hall in April the following year, when businessmen of Niles headed by F. M. Drew of Niles broached the subject of incorporating the town.

Fonte's widow seems to have retained a financial interest in the paper, because she is listed as a stockholder most of this time. In 1925, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Sanford were running the REGISTER from an office next to what is now the P. C. Hansen Building. They wrote on April 2 that Ben Murphy had been elected grammar school trustee. Also that Washington Hi had banned lipstick.

In July that year, Morton Salt started "the highest building south of Oakland", and farmers around Newark were alarmed over falling water supplies.

In April, 1926, new owners S. F. Collins and George MacArthur told REGISTER readers that raiders under District Atty. Earl Warren had closed "Little Tiajuana"—the vice and gambling sector of Alvarado.

In 1928 the paper was bought by Norman Parks, of Imperial Valley, who proceeded to turn local officialdom especially the schools upside down. Parks campaigned on the theme that a man should not hold more than one job. This became more popular as jobs grew scarcer in the Depression.

In 1936, Parks sold out to Carl Kelty and Henry Alderman. They sold to J. Boyce Smith in 1937. In October, 1939, Parks reassumed control and sold the REGISTER to F. E. Rogers. In April, 1940, Walter Wayneflete took the paper. In May, 1944 plagued by the difficulty of getting help, Wayneflete sold to a Stanford University printer and linotype operator, L. R. Batman, who in turn relinquished the REGISTER to Stuart Nixon, former Stockton daily newspaperman, in May, 1952.

The REGISTER'S old Potter press was in weekly use at Niles until this month.

Newark City Study Group To Confer

The newly-organized Citizens Committee to continue the Newark incorporation study will meet this Friday night in the auditorium of the Newark school, according to Gordon Cotton, chairman.

First order of business for the committee will be to bring the previously-made Chamber of Commerce study up to date, so Newark will know where it stands at the present time", said Cotton.

The C. of C. study had concluded that incorporation of Newark was feasible but it failed to gain the backing of Newark industries. The Citizens Committee is made up of delegates from the industries, clubs and organizations and is seeking the answer to the question, should Newark "go it alone?"

Jaysee Backs Scout Drive

The Washington Township Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a paper drive for the Boy Scouts of Centerville, Niles and Irvington.

Boy Scouts of those towns will pick up papers during the week of October 10.

The company which is purchasing the paper will have trailers at the L. & V. Truck Stop in Centerville on October 16 and 17, in which to load the papers.

part in Washington Township's earlier days.

The first county-wide political meeting was held in Newark when several hundred people would show up to listen to the oratory of the candidates, later dance until midnight, then join in a home - cooked - and-served supper, again resuming their dancing until daybreak.

During the campaign of 1920 when a red-hot fight was on for Assemblyman in this district, there were three candidates, two of whom were well known: the late Francisco Ignacio de Lemos, a Hayward lawyer; and Allan Pelton, then Mayor of San Leandro. The third candidate (practically unknown) was a budding young attorney named Emanuel Christian, who studied law while serving in the army during World War I in France.

Christian had the backing of young veterans of that day plus the endorsement of many old-timers throughout Washington Township. Christian emerged the victor in this hard-fought contest, was re-elected to the Assembly, and two years later was elevated to the State Senate. He became chairman of the State Personnel Board after he served two terms in the Senate.

One of the best-posted lawyers in Washington Township who represented the south end of the county in the legislature, was J. Leonard Rose, formerly of Newark.

300 New Teachers In County This Year, Most In Rural Area

In order to keep pace with this year's increased enrollment school districts in Alameda County have employed more than 300 additional classroom teachers for full-time teaching positions, according to Dr. Vaughn D. Seidel, county schools superintendent.

Approximately 196 of these are employed by the rural and suburban districts and 130 by the city unified districts. In all, Alameda County now has a total of 5,082 full-time teachers, of which 1,496 are employed by the rural and subrban districts and 1,397 part-time teachers, substitute teachers principals and other certificated st ff personnel employed in the 37 districts. Last year there were 4,754 full-time teachers, 799 part-time and substitute teachers, and 533 other certificated personnel, making a total of 6,090.

"Alameda County is fortunate in not having the serious shortage of teachers that is still a problem in most other counties in California," Dr. Seidel said. "Not only is every classroom manned by a competent teacher, but nearly all districts this summer were able to select their new teachers from a number of qualified applicants.

"This is especially true on the high school level. With only a few exceptions, every high school position attracted several well-trained applicants.

"Although there is still a need for teachers in the kindergarten and primary grades, the larger elementary districts experienced no difficulty in securing desirable new teachers. In the Hayward elementary school district, where 47 new teachers were hired, 16 of these for new positions due to the district's increased enrollment, 646 applications were processed and 440 applicants were interviewed."

The long-range recruitment program carried on by such districts as Hayward, which sends out brochures and conducts interviews with students at teacher training institutions, as well as similar programs of the State Department of Educaton and the County Superintendent of Schools, were among the reasons given by Dr. Seidel for Alameda County's enviable position in regard to teachers.

During the past year, more than 1,150 letters from out-of-state applicants were processed by the County Superintendent's office. Information about Alameda County was then sent to all applicants who gave evidence of being well-qualified in teaching fields where there was not already an over-supply. His office also assisted school districts by screening applicants and referring those who could meet the necessary requirements to districts where positions were available.

Dr. Seidel cited as other reasons the favorable climate and cultural advantages of the Bay area, as well as the fact that the area is particularly well-endowed with teacher training institutions.

Dr. Seidel stressed, however, that there will continue to be many opoprtunities for teachers at the kindergarten-primary level, and that those who are able to qualify should have no difficulty in finding such employment.

30 Night Classes In WUHS Adult Education Program

Nearly 30 adult education classes are being conducted at the Washington Union High School, according to Evening School Principal Judson Taylor.

For the first time, a registration fee of $1.50 per quarter is charged for all classes except for the welding and agricultural mechanics courses which carry a fee of $5 for 30 hours.

The days and hours schedule for the classes are available at the high school office.

Decoto CC Joins Home-Rule Study

A five-man committee to work with other Washington Township Chambers of Commerce in the current incorporation study was named at last week's meeting of the Decoto Chamber.

Those appointed by Frank Borghi, acting chairman, are Kenneth Garcia and Dr. Harold Schoenfeld, school superintendent, as co-chairman, and Bernie Joseph, Bill Hernandez and Borghi.

Congressman Miller Visits Here

Congressman George P. Miller, representing the Eighth California district, paid his respects to the publishers of the News-Register last week. He conferred with Stuart Nixon and George Oakes. Later the Congressman hopes to again visit Centerville and participate in the open-house ceremonies of the News-Register.

Later in the day Congressman Miller called to see his friends the Kitayama brothers, Tom and Ray, who are members of the Miller Non - Partisan advisory committee urging Miller's re-election to Congress.

Fred Weibel, co-owner of the famous Weibel Champagne Vineyards, has accepted an appointment on the campaign committee.

County School Enrollment Hits Record High of 140,192

Enrollment in all school districts in Alameda County is now at an all-time high of 140,192, according to a report issued today by County Superintendent of Schools Vaughn D. Seidel.

Although present enrollment exceeds last October's count of 131,877 by an additional 3,315 pupils, it is due to climb at least 1,500 during the next few months. Average daily attendance for the year is expected to be in the neighborhood of 141,427 as compared with 133,770 for 1953-54.

The greatest percent of this increase will be in the rural and suburban districts, where new subdivisions have been opened and homes are nearing completion, Dr. Seidel said. In three rural districts alone, Irvington, La Vista and Mt. Eden, a combined increase of more than 600 pupils is expected.

At the end of the first week of school, enrollment in the rural and suburban districts had reached 42,029, an increase of 11.7 percent over last October's count of 37,624. Kindergarten through high school enrollments in the city unified districts showed an increase of 2.8 percent, from 92,902 to 95,572.

Oakland Junior College, which opened a new liberal arts division this fall, increased its enrollment from 1,008 to 2,248. Some of these students, however, are residents of other counties.

Enrollment trends over the past five years indicate that Alameda Conty, which is now second only to Los Angeles County in school population, will increase its kindergarten through high school enrollment another 25 percent between now and 1958, Dr. Seidel said.

Harold L. Sheldon Dies In C'ville

"Underwater ear" spots telephone cables fast. Using a special underwater sound detector, telephone trouble shooters can quickly find cables lying on the bottom of the bays and rivers of the Pacific West—even cables buried deep in silt. This means cables can be raised, when necessary, in much less time than if we had to grapple for them "blindly" or a diver had to wander about looking for them. And, of course, time saved is also money saved. Thus, the "ear" is helping us bring you good service at low cost. Pacific Telephone works to make your telephone a bigger value every day.

Oil Business is LOCAL Business

Just like the corner grocery or the neighborhood barber shop, the oil business in Alvarado is a local business employing local people to serve the needs of local people.

Here in the Alvarado area, for example, our General Petroleum distributor office and 18 independently operated Mobilgas stations provide employment for 72 residents of the area.

These people earn their livelihood here, pay their taxes here, take part in community activities, shop at locally-owned stores, and raise their families here. Like you and your neighbor next door, this is their town — they take pride in its accomplishments and have a stake in its future.

They are the local citizens who help comprise the oil industry of Alvarado area.

BARGAIN DAYS NEXT WEEK

As the advertising men might say, there's a couple of bargains coming up next week that nobody in our Township can afford to miss. We're talking about the high school tax and the Irvington school bonds.

Why is the tax a bargain? Take a look at the chart on this page: in one of the fastest-growing regions in America, the tax rate for secondary education has been held level for seven years, although enrollment has doubled. This points to one thing: sound, foresighted administration. With such hands on the helm, voters and taxpayers can be assured that no unnecessary penny will be spent. The trustees promise that if the whole 50 cent tax isn't needed, it won't be levied. That is the best bargain that can be struck in today's high-pressure school situation.

Furthermore there is a bargain for everyone in the prospect of better education for our youngsters. The industrialist can benefit from better trained youths in Washington Hi's new shops — shops that won't be used unless the tax is voted because teachers can't be hired. The merchant benefits, because better education gives him a more competent labor pool, an upcoming buying public educated to a higher standard of living. The farmer benefits because "ag" courses train young men to farm more efficiently. Families benefit when girls are taught to make handier, more modern homes. And the whole community benefits from better educated men and women, leaders of the future, to understand and cope with the problems ahead of us.

In Irvington, the same educational arguments apply. There is a further financial one. Though $185,000 worth of bonds are to be voted, less than $50,000 worth can be sold now. But this $50,000 will unfreeze up to $1,250,000 in State aid to build three more schools for Irvington.

If 25-to-one isn't a better payoff than you get at Las Vegas, we're a baboon's brother-in-law.

AGAIN, A CALL TO ARMS

Almost faster than the mind can follow, event piles on significant event in mushrooming Washington Township. Last week two communities, Newark and Glenmoor Gardens, took the first steps to get themselves some sort of local government. Niles rallied the other towns to press self-rule for the whole Township. Hayward annexed two giant tracts inside our north boundary. And a group of Alameda County businessmen, most of them from the towns to our north, urged on the Supervisors their version of how the Township should be zoned to channel future development.

For the past two years this sort of activity has been building to a crescendo. This fall it is breaking upon us with full force, violently, pushed by that phenomenon of the Fifties, the flight to the suburbs. Homes and factories are here, and it is frustrating to those who realize what is happening that we seem to be able to do so little about it!

At first, the Land Planning Committee proposals seem almost an impertinence: why must Oaklanders tell us what to do? Yet there were seven Township men on the committee. At least they advised the other 53. And if we aren't able to plan our future ourselves, being inexperienced and perhaps too close to the forest, then isn't it better that someone do the job rather than that it be shelved altogether?

The point is, Townshippers must get out of the comfortable habit of leaving Township matters to someone else. There is so much to do before we can consider our work done, our community orderly and safe for ourselves and our grandchildren.

Readers may wonder why this newspaper frontrages such heavy topics as planning, incorporation, flood control instead of more entertaining matters. The reason is we want our friends and neighbors to think about, talk about and DO something about them.

For awhile, we'll leave entertainment to television.

THE WALLFLOWER

A little late, maybe, but we cannot forbear to comment on Joe McCarthy's comeuppance from the Senate Select Committee. In a total absence of flashbulbs and kleig lights, the wry, dry committeemen by their vote of censure took a long step toward restoring some measure of dignity to our Upper House.

The thing that struck us most, though, was the total public apathy toward the whole thing. Joe has been abandoned as completely as Mah Jongg. Shifting in a fashion almost frivolous, public attention already was focused elsewhere. In a backhanded sort of way, it is enough to restore one's faith in the ultimate rightness of democracy.

THE RED CARPET IS OUT

SUZY SEZ...

If you like to save things that may be valuable for future generations, this first issue, Volume One, Number One of the NEWS-REGISTER should go to the attic.

The moment you spend getting a free chest X-Ray may add years to your life.

One way to tell what a woman's most vain about, is to see what she spends most of her clothes budget on, be it shoes for small feet, or rings for graceful fingers.

It seems to me the people who brag the most about their lack of prejudice usually turn out to be hiding biased feelings behind a loud voice.

Next Tuesday be sure to vote in the election so important to keeping our high school operating at peak efficiency.

And then there's the young mother who always refers to her husbands' relatives as her "outlaws!"

I may start baby sitting myself! Our sitter showed up in a car that's much newer and nicer than the family auto.

Add a little chopped green onion to chicken soup, for a taste treat.

I'm glad to see that more and more housewives are getting out of the traditional week-day rut, and wash and iron on days convenient to them, even if it's not Monday or Tuesday.

You Scrabble fans will be interested to know that a refrigerator lazy-suzan on sale locally is perfect for your board, and makes it easy to turn it toward each player.

One Newark mother showed a lot of foresight when she went shopping with her son, to see that he picked out school shirts and sweaters she could wear, too.

You can make those dark slippers easier to find at night by sewing a large white button on each one.

A Centerville youngster reports with pleasure a birthday party where cup cakes were served with an animal cracker on each one.

Pity the poor Township woman who banged up her face doing housework. She says she's heard every joke in the book about running into a door, or being socked by her husband.

How many others noticed that attractive woman dressed "to the teeth" alighting from a twenty-year-old auto at a recent meeting? It was her son's "bucket of bolts," and it ran, which was more than her costly new car did that day.

Use vinegar to clear rubber dish racks or draining trays.

Why is it youngsters always start eating their sandwiches in the middle?

The man of the family refers to his blue shirts as his "t.v. shirts" even though he's not a star.

So long.

I captioned them chrysanthemums. Within an hour after the paper was out, the gals in the NEWS-REGISTER office had their hands full answering scornful phone calls. Doesn't the editor know a dahlia from a 'mum'? asked forty sneering voices. Normally he does, but this is football season. Anyhow we found out folks read the paper.

The excuse for this new column is that I can write off-the-cuff opinions and comment without having to say "we" instead of "I", like in the editorials. Sometimes I wonder who ever started that "we" business. Once you start it, you can't quit. Columns are easier to read — and write. If anybody has anything they think might fit in here, send it over. We—or rather I—will try to use it all.

"Yes, I read it. More news of Township men in service, also more pictures and jokes." Frank Rivera, 709 Leone Street, Newark.

"Yes, but it seems okay to me. I'm interested in school activities and would like good coverage of that." Mrs. Jack Adams, Roberts Avenue, Irvington.

"Yes, I read it and like it. It covers the local news and schools very well." Mrs. Florence Brazil, P.O. Box 33, Warm Springs.

"I have taken it, and it's improved in the last few months. There doesn't seem to be too much Centerville news. It needs more real local news." Mrs. Erna Johnston, 238 Glenmoor Drive, Centerville.

"I read the Register. I've always enjoyed the news in it, and I think it's fine." Mrs. Adeline Viverios, P.O. Box 141, Niles.

"It's alright except there is too much personal comment and not enough news in some of the local columns." Mrs. Laura Schyver, P.O. Box 85, Newark.

"We aren't taking it right now, but I think it's a good paper. More people mentioned would be nice." Mrs. Lois Roberston, 367 San Jose Highway, Irvington.

"I don't always read it, but I think mor eHillview Crest news would be nice." Miss Lilly Gilbert, 1264 Carlyle Street, Decoto.

"I do read it and enjoy it. I'd like more local news." Mrs. Viola Dias, R.F.D. Box 306, Niles.

"I don't read it regularly. I think more Hillview Crest last three months, but some of the pictures aren't too clear sometimes." Mrs. Elizabeth Melvin, 424 Westwood Drive, Centerville.

"I read it once in awhile and enjoy it. I can't think of anything special to add to it." Mrs. Margaret George, Alder Avenue, Centerville.

THE BIG JUMP—Above graph shows dramatically how population of Washington Union High School has increased since 1947, and how operating tax has remained static. With 1550 pupils certain next year, trustees are pleading for another 50 cents per $100 to provide teachers and necessary services. Election is Tuesday.
